I would categorize this game as a point&click game with walking sim elements.

The basic concept is very nice. You are in a mystery/surreal world. Going from one scene to the other requires a way to pass the barrier or to teleport by using a ticket machine. Now it is up to you to solve the puzzle on how to proceed.

I liked the art. And the simple controls helped to easily get the hang of the game. Unfortunately it is very short, but if you pick it up on sale, it is as cheaper than watching a movie in theater.. This game is not just a simple point click game or a pointless walking simulator. It changes your perspective, gives you an opportunity to fulfill your soul, not just about art but many aspects of life. It gives you relaxation with its beautiful soundtrack. And it is so kind move from them to publish it as a DLC for free.

Don't forget to download it!

I recommend this game!
